

Hong Kong received almost 60% more Russian visitors during January- August 2011, 77,000 visitors

TMI consultancy

11.11.11

Hong Kong received almost 60% more Russian visitors during January- August 2011, 77,000 visitors. Russia is now the 2nd fastest growing market for Hong Kong after Indonesia. According to the local NTO, the average age of Russian visitors to HK is 35 years old, they tend to be business owners and they often go to Hong Kong for business, especially attending trade exhibitions. Leisure tourists from Russia tend to combine visiting Hong Kong with sightseeing and shopping with beach holidays at Hainan in China.